Track Vets on the Net!

A new on-line greyhound vets discussion group was launched at the Autumn Conference of the Society of Greyhound Veterinarians at Belle Vue Greyhound Stadium, Manchester on 15th November 2008. For track vets, working as many do on their own and distant from their nearest colleague, keeping abreast of current developments and meeting their RCVS continuing professional development obligations may not be easy, especially as training events devoted to greyhound practice are few. At this time of great change in the greyhound industry, which is also a time of great public interest in greyhound welfare, the establishment of an on-line network of practising track vets and vets in greyhound practice, with a remit dedicated to education, training and the mutual exchange of ideas should go some way to filling that gap.

Those interested in participating are invited to apply on line at trackvetdiscussiongroup@googlemail.com. While the discussion group is primarily intended as a resource for active track vets, applications from others are welcome, and will be considered on their merits. This groundbreaking venture has been made possible through the generous support of the British Greyhound Racing Board Welfare Committee.
